Open Educational Resources for Online Learning

Cost: Free
Duration: 4 weeks
Language of instruction: English

October 31st - November 25th, 2022

Massive Open Online Course On Open Educational Resources for Online Learning

The National Open University of Nigeria (NOUN), in collaboration with the Commonwealth of Learning (COL), is pleased to launch the third in the series of four-week Massive Open Online Course (MOOCs) on Open Educational Resources (OER).

Course Description

Open Educational Resources (OER) are learning materials released under an open intellectual property license or in public domain, allowing free of cost and legal reuse, revision and redistribution (UNESCO 2012). OER has been recognised as a means of providing useful and quality content in the various field of study. However, it is observed that despite the availability of the useful resources, many do not know how to integrate it in teaching and learning. This became more obvious in the advent of COVID-19. Therefore, in this course you will learn how to plan, write, and appraise an online learning content using OER.

Target Audience

The target audience is educational practitioners, trainers, researchers, and all with interests in how to use Open Educational Resources for teaching and learning.

Certification

Active engagement in the activities and completion of assignments will qualify you to earn a certificate of achievement.

Registration

To register for the course visit:
https://www.nounmooc.org/oer4ol3

For more information Contact:
jinegbedion@noun.edu.ng, ookafor@noun.edu.ng
Visit us at: https://www.nounmooc.org/oer4ol3